

Control Line 2008 offers participants a rare opportunity to hear from leaders in emergency management; who share their experiences of the challenges of today and their vision for the future. A series of presentations will provide a whole of government perspective to incident management in today's political climate.

Program:

~Managing a Terrorist Event~

Simon Overland – Deputy Commissioner, Victoria Police

~Strategic Incident Leadership~

Scott Vail - Deputy Chief Officer, Fire and Rescue Branch, Governors Office of Emergency Services California, USA

~Living with Fire Strategy~

Ewan Waller – Chief Officer, Department of Sustainability and Environment

~Incident Management – The Future~

Russell Rees – Chief Officer, Country Fire Authority

~Managing a Mass Casualty Event~

Craig Lapsley – Director, Emergency Management, Department of Human Services

Paul Holman – Operations Manager, Specialist Emergency Response Department, Metropolitan Ambulance Service

~The Panel~

Craig Lapsley – Director, Emergency Management, Department of Human Services

Paul Holman – Operations Manager, Specialist Emergency Response Department, Metropolitan Ambulance Service

Joe Buffone – Deputy Commissioner Policy and Planning, Office of the Emergency Services Commissioner

Tony Murphy – Chief Fire Officer, Metropolitan Fire Brigade

Stephen Fontana APM – Assistant Commissioner, Victoria Police

~Closing Speaker~

Bruce Esplin – Emergency Services Commissioner, Victoria

Date: Saturday 6 September 2008
Time: 0900 hrs SHARP – 1500 hrs
Venue: Karralyka Centre, Ringwood
Cost: $5 (includes lunch) - to be pre-paid
Registration: via email control.line@bayswatercfa.com

Places are limited so register now!!

Proudly sponsored by:

